

An abstract line drawing of a human face in profile, facing right. The drawing is composed of black outlines for the facial features and a network of red lines for geometric construction. The red lines include a vertical line on the right side, a horizontal line across the middle, and several diagonal lines that intersect to form a series of triangles and quadrilaterals across the face. The construction appears to be a method for determining proportions or positions of features.